

Tradition says it's the architectural, planning and design professions that are at the forefront of a recovery. Let's all hope that holds true post pandemic.

We are experiencing significant project work in the Tri-state, Northeast, Mid-Atlantic, Midwest, Southwest and on the West Coast. Happy to announce these recent hires as we tackle major project assignments for new and legacy clients of the firm.

Manuel Sia - Associate
Kimmerle Newman Architects

Manuel will help lead our production dept. with a focus on code, cost and quality control.

Manuel is a former senior architect at two major corporate interiors firms in NYC. He is a proven leader with the ability to manage multiple projects from inception to completion. His role at Kimmerle Newman consists of cost control, code review, quality control and content. His design acuity and technical know-how allows him to provide advanced quality control. He used his passion, skills, and wealth of experience in leading and initiating on-going staff mentoring and training with a focus on quality improvement of design and contract documents. Manuel's 3-D sketches, renderings and technical details and drawings are impeccable and a further dimension to his multiple talent sets - all dedicated to quality delivery and technical excellence.

Education: Bachelor of Science in Architecture (University of Santo Tomas, Manila, Philippines)

Leighann Laurencelle -Architect/Interiors
Kimmerle Newman Architects

Leighann's background in interior design and architecture places her in a position to support all design and production efforts.

Leighann is an intermediate architect and interior designer and has joined our team after three years of experience with related firms. Prior to Kimmerle, she was a facility analyst for corporate requirements and other space planning needs. Leighann has completed several internships at respectable firms and furniture dealers throughout the area. Some of her current projects at KNA include CD sets for clients, renderings, finish selections and specification, surveying and creating existing due diligence / conditions reports.

Education: Bachelor of Art /Interior design (NJIT 2017), Master of Architecture (NJIT 2019)

Marleni Galindo - Account Manager
Kimmerle Workspace

Marleni's efforts as an account rep., designer and specifier will be focused on client's FFE and furnishing needs.

Marleni joins us from Jonas, Inc., a luxury, custom upholstery firm where she served as a Project Manager. She led the design efforts there from initial design concept, prototype review, through installation for a variety of market segments. Her 15 years' experience as an interior designer and project architect complements her current role with Workspace as an FFE acct. manager. Marleni has already jumped into her new role by managing the installation of a new office design for The Score and working on the furniture elements for a new media center / library for the private / parochial school - Villa Walsh.

Education: Bachelor of Science in Management (Rutgers University – School of Business 2000), Associate degree in Applied Science (New York School of Interior Design 2006)

Kimberly Allman - Marketing & Admin.
Kimmerle Group Management Corp.

Kimberly will assist in our public relations marketing communications efforts including social media posts and updates.

Kimberly developed a successful career in hospitality and event management through administrative and operational opportunities with notable private county clubs in the area. Her efforts included support for social and corporate operations, business development and client relations. Kimberly will support the KG Partners, Department heads and Managing Directors with project and marketing communications including web and social media updates. She will also take the lead as coordinator of corporate meetings, events, award / competition submissions and promotional opportunities.

Education: Bachelor of Science (Johnson & Wales University 2015)
